I watched in amazement as with skill he jumped over the fence and approached the goat. He saw before I even noticed that one of his goats was giving birth and needed assistance - a skill learned through a lifetime of learning. Shortly after, we piled into his F-150 and I got a tour of his property. I learned of how he helped to restore the farm to its beautiful shape, about how important the forests on his property are to him, and about how farming was more than a job - it was his life's calling. It was a special moment that I remember and cherish.

My life is filled with many of these ministry moments shared with others at their home, in my office, in coffee shops, beside hospital beds, and in so many other settings. These moments, visiting with members of the church, are a special and important part of my ministry. It is holy time whenever I get to sit with you and talk. We might be getting together to talk about an issue that you are facing or just to get to know one another better. To sit and share with one another is special. It helps me to get to know you better and helps me to know what joys and struggles we share as a community of faith.

Visits can happen in many different locations. Please let me know if you are in the hospital and would like a visit because I don't always know. Visits can happen at your home or we can meet in my office and you can check out the comfortable chairs. Visits can happen at a coffee shop, or with a tour of your property or barn. Visits can happen in person or we can talk on the phone. Visits can happen when you are sick or struggling and visits can happen when everything is going okay. Visits can happen during the day or if we need to schedule an evening visit that is also possible. Sometimes I hear, "you are busy - you don't need to visit me." However, the truth is that I always have time to visit with you. I enjoy the visits we share and they are an important and vital part of our ministry together. You can set up a visit by calling me at the church (519 364-3550).

Jesus said "where two or three are gathered in my name I am there" (Matthew 18:20). Often when we share time together the moments are holy, healing, and life-giving. So friends, let's celebrate the relationships we share and continue to spend time together. Thank you for your support of the ministry of Grace United through your gifts of time, talent, and treasure which help to make the ministry of pastoral care a reality in our church and in our community.

Blessings, Rev. Micol Cottrell

*Do people see you as trustworthy?
Do you work effectively as part of a group? Do you like reading and overseeing the implementation of various policies? Are you willing to learn and ask questions?*

Maybe God is calling you to share your gifts as a trustee. We are looking for three or more new people to join our church's Board of Trustees. Trustees hold the property of Grace United for the benefit of the congregation as part of the United Church of Canada. Trustees ensure that property in the church is used for a purpose consistent with those outlined in the Trusts of Model Deed; ensure the congregation has adequate property and liability insurance; that appropriate investment policies are in place; that the congregation has a definite procedure for maintenance and repair; and oversee other duties as outlined in the Congregational Board of Trustees Handbook. Often this is simply ensuring that this work is happening through other committees. At other times this will involve a more active role. Trustees meet at least once a year or more often as required. Training and guidance will be given. We will be voting in new trustees at our Congregational Board Meeting. If you are interested please speak with Rev. Micol.

UPDATE FROM THE GENERAL COUNCIL 43

This summer I was honoured to serve as a commissioner to the 43rd Meeting of General Council, the body that makes decisions around denominational identity and structure in our church.

One of the largest pieces of work was centred on restructuring our church, a process that began at General Council 42 and was voted upon through remits in congregations and presbyteries. These changes include moving to a three court model consisting of Communities of Faith (which includes congregations), Regional Councils, and General Council. The hope is that this will streamline and refocus our church as we seek to live out our mission within our means. The formation of clusters and networks will also be encouraged wherein people in the church can come together for mutual support, learning, and work. Please keep in your prayers those who are now hard at work helping to make this change possible by January 1st.

Included among the other work that took place:

- approving the document “Calls to the Church” which was carefully crafted by indigenous leaders and organizations within the United Church and presents a vision for our relationship and ministry together
- approving entering into full communion with the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in the United States and Canada
- discussing the pain experienced by declining, rural, and isolated communities of faith
- updating the policies of our church to fit into the new structure
- moving towards a more transparent process for how we prioritize work around Mission and Service
- discussing how our church can better support people with mental health issues and physical issues
- dealing with how we can learn and discuss issues around racism, colonization, and residential schools
- approving new practices and structures for the education, training, and oversight of ministry personnel
- electing a new moderator, the Right Reverend Richard Bott
- sharing in a conversation about experiences of racism in the church

While it was a busy and tiring week it also reaffirmed in me that God is still at work in our church, calling us to great things. I’m grateful for the gifts that you share through the Mission and Service Fund which allowed participants like myself to share in this important work. For more information on what took place at General Council and to watch videos from the meeting please visit <https://generalcouncil43.ca>

Blessings, Rev. Micol Cottrell

Celebrate the holidays with a yuletide spectacular that will have you dancing in your “Blue Suede Shoes!” Backed by a 5-piece band, 3-piece horn section, 4 singers and a church choir, international award-winning Elvis tribute artist Steve Michaels serenades with the King’s best holiday offerings. There is a lovely gift shop where you can do a bit of shopping, then we'll be off to the theatre for the 2 p.m. matinee. The show runs just over 2 hours, so we should be home by 6:15-6:30 p.m.
